

Stag Safety: A FRACTIONAL SAFETY PARTNER

About Us:

At Stag Safety, we consider ourselves a fractional safety partner, allowing customers to select as-needed solutions without the large capital expenditures associated with in-house safety programs, trainings and certifications. Our approach is simple and straight-forward, with an emphasis on finding the most affordable and suitable solutions for your business.

We offer basic and advanced safety services customized to meet any company's specific safety needs. We offer customizable training, field safety consulting and ongoing safety program management. Our experienced safety professionals can evaluate your current safety programs and provide solutions to enable your organization to achieve a higher standard of safety.
